SUDDENLY, MILLENNIALS ARE EVERYWHERE

According to U.S. Census Bureau estimates, the number of Americans born between 1982 and 2000, stands at 83 million, representing a quarter of the country's population. Their ranks also exceed baby boomers, the 75.4 million Americans born between 1946 and 1964. The significant impact this population is having on the church is undeniable and will continue to grow.

SERIES VISION, FAITH AND LEADERSHIP

03

Leading and being led by people who inspire and enlighten us, give us strength, and moves us to maturity. Taking people where they have never been, requires a leader to think and behave differently. A leader worth following embodies a foundation of core values, biblical principles in practice, and a personal understanding of what matters most.

VISION, FAITH, & LEADERSHIP: THE COLLABORATIVE ELEMENTS OF PASTORAL DISTINCTION

There is a vast distinction between results-driven pastoral leadership and action-driven ministerial facilitation. The distinction rests in the leader's ability to take the architectural incoherent plan of God (vision), which is unseen by the physical eye and, with incomparable and unapologetic conviction (faith), birth a coherent and tangible outcome that astonishes, stupefies, and surprises those who would have never expected the vision to materialize in the first place (leadership).

SERIES LEADERS IMPACTING CITIES

04

When Leaders examine their ministry and what Jesus has called them to do, they can better determine what matters most. For pastors and churches to have an impact on urban and biblical principles, an impact on urban and rural cities, a vigilant watch must be kept. When danger approaches, and a blaring alarm is sounded, shepherds of the city realize their biblical responsibility is not only to tend their individual congregations, but also to acknowledge their calling as elder to the entire city. Leading, encouraging, and releasing believers to love their neighbors outside church walls empowers a local ministry to go further.
